

All the Way

I know that every morning the sun will rise I know that after every storm the calm arrives.
But I want to feel the warmth of being alive
'Cause my life has always been so still For so many things to try.

Always say,
I won't let the rain fall on me covering the light,
I'll hold
the truth that made me real
and lead me to never leave the ground,
unafraid inside,
all the way,
all the way.

I fight to beat the odds that road may bring within,
Sometimes you have to know that's far beyond
your sight,
And you need to find a place that is your own,
'Cause life is good enough to live,
never short enough to try.

Always say,
I won't let the rain fall on me covering the
light,
I'll hold
the truth that made me real
and lead me to never leave the ground,

unafraid inside,
all the way,
all the way.
Till now, I didn't realize it's never late to fly don't be scared to be there by yourself to play

this is your game.
Always say,
I won't let the rain fall on me covering the
light,
I'll hold
the truth that made me real
and lead me to never leave the ground,
unafraid inside,
all the way,
all the way.
